

Gord Smith attended a Meeting in Grand Rapids, MI on October 9th with Dr. Templeman MD. An offer went out for one person to come forward for a sample of Glimpse who had rough hands. Gord Smith came forward for the sample. Dr. Templeman explained to me in Seattle that Gord's hands were so bad from working with cement that if you touched a paper towel to them you would see blood. He was given glimpse to take home and took these photos before and then one week after. He has suffered for fourteen years with psoriasis. Amazing.
